Projects

ClaimGuard: AI-Powered Insurance Fraud Detection Next.js, React, Genkit AI	GitHub
- Developed a full-stack web application that performs automated exploratory data analysis (EDA) on insurance claim datasets to identify key factors influencing fraudulent activities. - Built a dynamic and responsive user interface using Next.js, React, and Tailwind CSS, featuring interactive dashboards, data visualizations with Recharts, and secure file-upload capabilities. - Engineered a generative AI-powered backend using Google's models via Genkit to analyze claim data, predict fraud likelihood, and provide clear, human-readable explanations for its risk assessments, demonstrating strong skills in integrating cutting-edge AI into a practical business solution.
DocGen AI Platform React, TypeScript, Firebase, Google Gemini API, Tailwind CSS	GitHub
- A SaaS-style platform that transforms raw topics into structured .docx and .pptx files. Features include a drag-and-drop outline builder, context-aware AI content generation, real-time cloud storage, and client-side file rendering. - Integrated Google Gemini API with custom system instructions to generate distinct formatting styles for Reports (prose) vs. Presentations (bullet points). - Built a complex "Smart Wizard" featuring drag-and-drop outline management and real-time validation using React hooks and custom state logic. - Implemented secure cloud infrastructure using Firebase Authentication and Firestore to handle user sessions, project management, and data synchronization.
